A Warm Welcome

“Hello, Kimo!” Mateo waved outside his home in Oaxaca de Juárez, Mexico. “Our neighbors are coming over tonight. Will you come too?” Kimo’s ears popped up. “Of course! I’ll bring something BIG!” He stretched his neck. “Bigger than me?” Mateo laughed. “First, come exploring with Aunt Rosa and me.”

What would you bring to a gathering of friends?

So Many Flavors!

At a little eatery, Rosa ordered mole. “Say MOH-leh,” said Mateo. “Oaxaca is famous for it!” Rosa dipped a tortilla into the rich sauce. “Chiles, seeds, spices... many ingredients work together. There are different kinds!” Kimo tasted a little. His ears stood tall. “So many flavors in one tiny bite!” Mateo grinned. “Your ears want seconds!”

What food would you like to tell a new friend about?
